WOMAN QUESTION POSTPONED.

Delegates Were Ready for the Fray,

but the Matter Went Over. CHICAGO, May 11.-Anticipation of spirited debate on the woman delegate question brought out the largest crowd today that has yet attended the Methodist General Conference. Over night all three of the contending factions had burnished up their arguments, and a great tilt in solemics was confidently expected. The veterans, who oppose the admission of women to the annual conference on scriptural grounds, were ready for further ag-

The latest mails from India give additional details of the calamity which has befallen the "brightest jewel in the imperial crown." A correspondent, writing from Nagpore, capital of the central provinces, on April 20, says: "It is impossible to consuch as India is now experiencing. We can lump together statistics showing the actual loss to the government. This, however, takes no account of the further loss of the great mass of agriculturists, who have exhausted every resource in the struggle for existence, and who have been left penniless lands which lie fallow for need of the lions sterling, and the cotton crop seven millions, while the great oil seed crop is west provinces and Oude. Given a fair season the Indian peasantry will recover from the effects of the famine with rapidity little short of marvelous. But, two conditions this year test their recuperative powers to an unusual degree. First, the occurrence of the second drought before the races of the previous one had been eliminated. Second, the unprecedented mortality among the cattle. On a sanguine estimate six years must elapse before the central provinces return to their normal conditions. In the Deccan it is the same case, and at Guzerat and Rajputana the interval will

Several Americans Honored at Yesterday's Drawing-Room.

LONDON, May 11 .- The third drawingroom of the season was opened by the Queen in person at Buckingham Palace to-day. It was an exceptionally brilliant function. The royal circle was large, while the diplomatic and general circles unusually well attended. Bright weather prevailed and immense crowds about all the approaches of the palace warmly welcomed the royal personages as they arrived. The United States ambassador, Mr. Choate, the second secretary of the United States embassy, J. R. Carter, and W. R. RIOTING IN SPAIN.

Disturbances Growing Out of the Anti-Tax Agitation.

MADRID. May 11 .- There was serious trouble at several places yesterday, growing out of the anti-tax agitation at Valencia. Barricades were erected in the streets, from behind which the mobs stoned the gendarmes. On the latter endeavoring to dislodge the rioters they were received with rifle shots, and two policemen were fusillade, before which the mob fled. The rioting was particularly severe in Barcelona, where a crowd threw up barricades in the street and exchanged musketry fire with a body of gendarmes. Shots were also fired from the balconies and verandas of a number of houses. Several gendarmes were hit. A number of the rioters have been arrested. Order has now been restored in the city, but it is rumored that martial law will be proclaimed there. At Seville a mob threw stones at the building of the military club, shattering the windows and the gas lamps. The gendarmes only succeeded in dispersing the rioters after a hard fight, during which several citizens, two gendarmes, a police inspector and two members of the Municipal Guard were Disorders were renewed at Barcelona this afternoon, but on a smaller scale than those of yesterday. The gendarmerie dispersed the crowd. The street-car and ombus services are suspended. Martial law has been proclaimed in provinces of Barcelona and Valencia. At seville, where the shops are still closed, the excitement continues. There has been further resistance to the gendarmerie at

The Porte Delaying Settlement of the American Claims.

The Porte has presented a new note to the embassies, announcing its intention to introduce octroi in Gallipolis. The object of this movement, it is believed, is to establish a precedent for the subsequent imposition of like duties in other towns. I is expected that the embassies will again refuse to assent, as the measure is contrary to the treaty.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—It is understood here that the Ahmed Pasha referred to is vice admiral of the Turkish navy. It was reported that he was coming to the United States ostensibly to place a contract for a warship with one of our ship builders, but actually to attempt to compromise the claims of the missionaries under cover of this transaction. If he is actually coming to the United States with the purpose of arranging a satisfactory adjustment of these claims the officials will meet him in a friendly spirit, for they are by no means disposed unduly to strain the present critical situation in the Orient. Though chafing under the slowness with which the Turkish replies are extracted, our officials feel that they have gained a substantial advantage in having secured with such formality as will no longer admit of question an absolute acknowledgment from the Turkish government of its indebtedness on account of these indemnity claims.

Mere Names" a Powerful Factor in Influencing Political Action-Interview with Hanna.

DULUTH, Minn., May 11.-Charles A.

Towne makes the following statement with reference to his nomination for the vice presidency by the Sioux Falls convention: "It was my judgment that the Sioux Falls convention should appoint a confer-ence committee to meet with similar com-mittees from the Democratic and Silver Republican conventions at Kansas City, on July 4, for the purpose of jointly considering; the vice presidential nomination. This opinion was freely communicated to prominent members of the convention, both be-fore it was assembled and while it was in session. In the exercise of its discretion however, it decided differently. When the conclusion was reached to nominate a candidate the unanimity and enthusiasm with which the convention named me, is, o course, exceedingly gratifying. It must be remembered that many of the strongest men in this country were members of this convention, which was composed of the wise and conservative majority of the Peo-ple's party, whose devotion to the great cause in which all the reform parties are enlisted nobody can question. The indorsement of such a body is a high compliment and I deeply appreciate it. Moreover, it sets an example of unselfishness at this juncture that ought not to be without good influences. Neither Mr. Bryan nor myself belongs to the People's party. To be sure, such a consideration may seem unimportant when men are engaged in a great contest against the same evil tendencies in the government; but mere names are still somewhat powerful in influencing political conduct and we must render all praise to the convention which thought only of the principles at stake. into the camp of those who then opposed Sioux Falls are placed before the country with all reform parties behind them, they will, in my opinion, be ratified by the peo-ple of the Republic in November."

Hanna Says Convention Will Name McKinley's Associate on Ticket.

NEW YORK, May 11 .- The Herald pub-

Senator Hanna last night: "The selection of a man for the second place is open, and always has been, and will remain so till the convention shall have made its choice. There has been much discussion of different men for the place, which is proper, but when it is said that any particular man has the preference it is a mistake. Gov-Vice President and has not been discussed by those who can speak for the administration. What has been said about him has been purely speculative, from sources unacquainted with the facts. The assertions made here and there that the President is concerning himself with the choice of his associate on the ticket do him injustice; he has invariably declined to take any part, notwithstanding overtures from many different sources by his own friends and friends of the men put forward. It would take part in such a movement. It can be said with authority that the vice presidenno doubt each gentleman will develop strength. There may be some ballots before the selection can be made, but you can be the man the majority wish to have there. This will be fair to all. "I have yet to hear from any source within the lines of the Republican party even a ripple of hesitation regarding the renomination of President McKinley. The past four years have given rise to new issues. There will be bold declarations on these. Four years ago we were practically a hermit nation, isolated from all world merce. Our manufacturing capabilities and facilities were beyond our own needs. The home demand was enormous, but the manufacture for home demand does not add to general wealth. Foreign demand is what adds to our stock of wealth estimated in coin. The war with Spain, through wise counsels in the executive officers and the warlike spirit of the army and navy and people, was brought to such a prompt and satisfactory conclusion that it not only opened the eyes of the world to our invincible fighting capacity, but to our marvelous advance in manufactures. It extended our territories, broadened our proluctive capacity and extended our domestic markets among people whose trade had been a bone of contention among Euro-pean nations for centuries. The Republican convention, in its platform declarations, will have to meet all these new prob-lems of public policy by taking advanced grounds."
